

Dartmouth Club of the Upper Valley
Enriching Your College and Yourself

Don't Miss our Special DCUV Holiday Christmas Party!!

Dec. 15th, 5:30 PM, Thayer Dining Hall

Join your friends for a wonderful reception with free hors d'oeuvres (including plenty of shrimp for all of you who are asking), wine, beer, cocktails and non-alcoholic drinks for all registered members. If you have yet to register this year, do so now or come to the party with a check and you can register as you enter.

Letter from our President:

Hello DCUV members,

The fall ended with two excellent events for the DCUV. We were pleased to be the first Club to have President Kim join us for a special reception and he delivered a packed program on his understanding of the Dartmouth Experience and the attraction he feels for what makes Dartmouth special.

Our fall Tuesday receptions ended with an excellent panel of speakers from the DOC. Dan Nelson '75, the new Director of Outdoor Programs spoke eloquently about his passion for the DOC, its uniqueness among college experiences, and the Dartmouth resources that intensify the breadth of offerings. Dan brought four DOC student leaders who spoke of their activities and how the DOC has influenced their life experiences.

We have lots more in store for the winter and spring so please join us in membership and support these events.

Board Member Chuck Sherman has created a new format for our DCUV member Directory with new categories - now in the mail.

We are also making progress on updating our web site at: dcuv.org If this short address does not work, use: www.dartmouth.org/clubs/dcuv/.

Clark Griffiths '57, Editor

President Kim '82a and Vice President for Alumni Relations, David Spalding '76 greeting guests at our special reception on Oct 4th. Here he is talking to Richard Throwbridge '54. Talking to David is DCUV Board member Richard Akerboom. Over 400 attended the event and also enjoyed a fine selection of hors d'oeuvres (below) provided by Alumni Relations. Then all listened to President Kim's very thoughtful and enjoyable talk!

The best photo I have of Jim Kim is with my wife, Happy. She was last in the receiving line. CG, Editor

New Director of Outdoor Programs, Dan Nelson showing slides and talking about the importance of student leadership of the DOC. We also heard from four undergrad leaders including the DOC President, Tom Flynn '11.

Our Schedule of Events for 2010. Put these dates on your new calender now!

January 19th, 5:30, Top of the Hop: Reception with Chris Wren '57, New York Times reporter and editor speaking on The Future of Journalism.

Chris has a long history with the publication industry both as reporter and editor. He began his career as reporter for Look, covering the civil rights movement and the Vietnam War. Later, he became a senior editor and Washington editor for the magazine. In 1973, he joined The New York Times as metropolitan reporter. His tenure at the NYTimes included bureau chief in Moscow, Cairo, Beijing, Ottawa, and Johannesburg and a United Nations and foreign correspondent covering drug policy. When he retired from the NYTimes he left the newspaper's Manhattan office and walked to his home in Vermont along the Appalachian and Long Trails. The experience resulted in his book: Walking to Vermont: From Times Square into the Green Mountains—A Homeward Adventure.

January 30th, 9-1: Annual Seminar – Pandemics and Epidemiology

This year's annual seminar is truly a timely topic. With the flu season in full swing and the media attention paid to the H1N1 virus set to reach a frenzied level, learn from an expert about new directions and breakthroughs in the field of study. Dartmouth Medical School Professor, Joe Rosen, MD will conduct an enlightening discussion on his research into the nature of modern pandemics and strategies above and beyond vaccination to fight their spread.

February 16th, 5:30, Top of the Hop: Reception with Richard Crocker, Dean of the Tucker Foundation: Speaking on the new programs for students and his direction for the Foundation.

The Foundation was instituted in 1951 by the Dartmouth College Trustees to support and further the moral and spiritual work of the College. Today it aspires to be a nationally recognized model of moral and transformational leadership in higher education. Through a combination of community service, service learning and spiritual exploration, programming at the Tucker Foundation provided students with over 7,000 opportunities to perform service and examine their spirituality last year. Learn about the success of the Foundation and its continuing relevancy to the Dartmouth experience by its new Dean.

March 16th, 5:30, Top of the Hop: Reception with Jeffrey Horrell, Dean of Libraries and Librarian of the College: Speaking on the breadth and depth of services for students and alumni in the age of the modern library.

In the early 1980s, Jeffrey was the Librarian at Dartmouth's Sherman Art Library. After working for both Syracuse and Harvard, he returned to Hanover in 2005 to assume the position of Librarian of the College. In his current position, he oversees the Library's information resources that range from a vast array of digital sources to approximately 2.35 million printed volumes, including subscriptions to over 20,000 journals and other serials. Jeffrey will speak on the evolving services of the modern library and will address the opportunities available to students and alumni.

April 20th, 5:30, Top of the Hop: Tuesday reception – Topic to be announced

May 11th, 5:30, Hayward Lounge, Hanover Inn Annual Book Awards

The DCUV will once again honor local high school students, nominated by their schools, for all around excellence.

May 18th, Top of the Hop and Alumni Hall: Annual Dinner

Join us for our annual reception and dinner. As in the past, we will have a notable speaker join us for the program.
