Wonderful DCUV Past Events to report on since our last letter

DCUV Bd. member Ginia Allison and her grand daughter Allison Steele '16.

DCUV Day at the Dartmouth Skiway in Lyme. Sunday, February 14, 2016

While the skiing was not up to par, we still had a fun Apres Ski Party in the afternoon at the Chivers Room on the second floor of the McLane Family Lodge. Complimentary beer and wine and soft drinks were served through the new Skiway bar run by Maple Street Catering along with appetizers and snacks brought by attendees.

The highlight of the program was a talk and slide show on ski safety given by Allison Steele D'16. She is Co Director of the Dartmouth Ski Patrol and will graduate this spring.

On February 16 Whit Mitchell spoke on Leadership Development at Dartmouth at our Third Tuesday event at the Top of the HOP

Whit Mitchell was introduced by Board Director Ginia Allison and talked about his book “Working in Synch” and about the 1982 freshman crew team and their subsequent success. Whit is an Executive Coach, Team Dynamics expert, author and outstanding speaker who made his presentation without notes!

DCUV Night At AVA Gallery & Art Center, Lebanon, NH; Thursday, March 10

An opportunity to view an extensive art collection including Vintage Posters from Alfred T. Quirk

About 13 DCUV Members attended the event with wine and beer hosted by AVA Exec. Director Bente Torjusen; here standing in front of one of her favorite posters.

Board President Henry Nachman and his favorite poster!

Dean Rebecca Biron presented a very interesting concept on Dartmouth's new plan for Housing Communities.

Third Tuesday on March 15th in the Top of the HOP

DCUV VP Chuck Sherman Introduced Dean Biron

At the heart of the new housing plan is the concept that each new student will join a unique dorm and will be a member of that dorm, its social and faculty involvement for his or her entire Dartmouth experience - even if they should subsequently join a Greek organization

The DCUV 2016 Annual Seminar

Beyond The Stage and Canvas -- The Arts in the Upper Valley

This unique program was held on March 5th in Filene Auditorium in Moore Hall.

Walter Cunningham, Director of the Dartmouth Gospel Choir and Producer of Dartmouth Idol mc'd the event which included key talks from leaders of eight Upper Valley performing and visual art facilities. At least 100 attended the event with all DCUV members receiving a free lunch following the formal presentations. After the lunch the presenters formed a panel to discuss the future of the arts in the Upper Valley and beyond and explore ways we can guarantee sustaining the high level of arts in the Upper Valley. The panel then responded to questions and open discussion from the audience.

Third Tuesday Reception and Talk by Dean of Tuck School, Matt Slaughter, April 19th

This outstanding event was cosponsored by DCUV and Tuck School and held in their McLaughlin Atrium. Not only is it a lovely room but Tuck supplied refreshments including a great variety of appetizers!

A view of the Atrium room with folks talking and enjoying themselves

DCUV Board Member Ginia Allison introduced the Dean of Tuck School Matt Slaughter (on the left) and Peter Volanakis D77,T 82 (on the right) who interviewed Matt. Peter has an amazing history of his own including 28 years at Corning and its President in 2007. He is also a former Tuck Overseer and Incoming Board Chm. at Colby Sawyer College.

His questions to Matt led to very positive ideas for Tuck's growth and future success. While most Tuck students have graduated from College and return for their MBA at Tuck after a few years of outside work, he plans to expand Tuck's interaction with Dartmouth and Thayer Undergraduates as well.
