DCUV Annual Holiday Party Class of 1953 Commons, Hanover NH

On Dec. 6th DCUV had an outstanding holiday party - free for all members. There was a fun, open bar managed by a great array of Board Members and friends. Even though we could not serve hard liquor under Dartmouth's new policy, there was a wide selection of tasty wines and beers for all to enjoy. The great food that never stopped coming from the kitchen included shrimp, meat balls, stuffed mushrooms, special dips, filled pastries and desserts!

All participants were welcomed and signed in by our Secretary, John Engelman and Treasurer, Dennis Kaufman. At least 150 members attended.

Paul Killebrew, our Sponsorship Chair, shakes hands and serves DCUV President Henry Nachman.

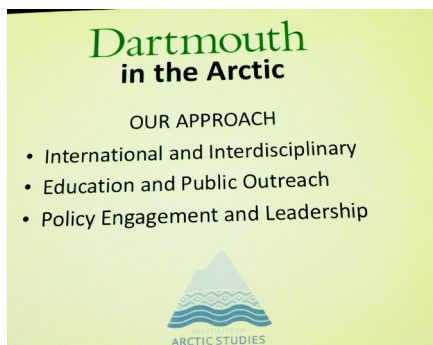

Scott Ellison, and his wife talking to Martha Beattie, Dartmouth VP for Alumni Relations.

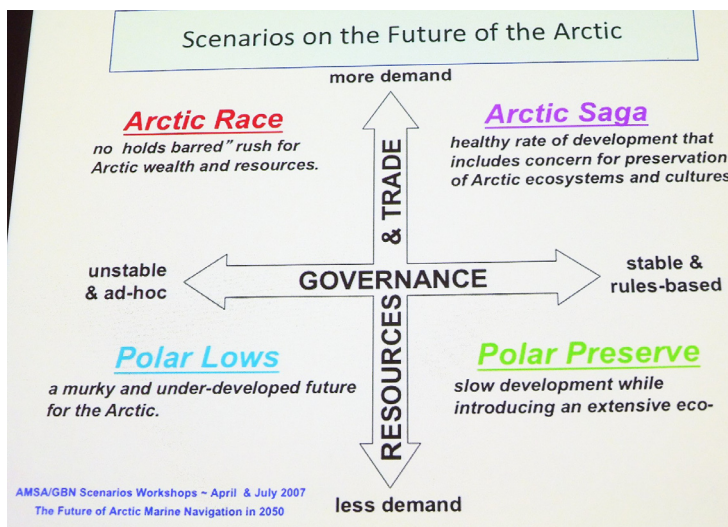

Prof. Jere Daniell, Jim Beattie and Chuck Sherman debate key issues.

At our September Third Tuesday Reception we had excellent talks from two new Dartmouth Coaches. On the left is Laura Schuler who came to us after being at the helm of the Canadian national women's hockey team and is now a strong leader of the Dartmouth women's hockey team. She is standing with hockey fan Dick Booma, D'63. In the center is the new men's basketball coach David McLaughlin who came from a winning program at Northeastern and talked about leadership and development of his team and introduced us to 4 of his key players -standing tall on the right.

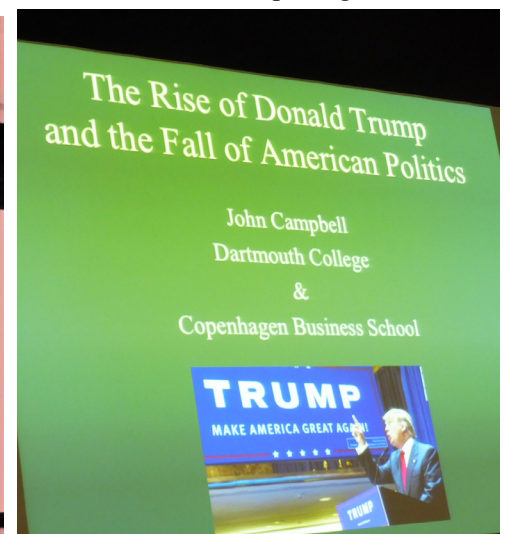

Our October Tuesday included a fascinating talk with slides from Prof. Ross Virginia regarding Dartmouth's involvement with the Arctic and the impact that global warming is having on the Arctic Ice Sheet including the opening of the Northwest Passage to ships in 2007.

The other issues that were discussed included the politics of different country's priorities, including mining and economics, that can influence the future of the Arctic as shown in the above slide.

Our November 15th meeting featured another Dartmouth Professor as noted in the opening screen.

Professor Campbell then discussed some of the complex implications regarding both the Domestic and International issues as noted in the above slide.

Up-Coming DCUV Events in 2017

DCUV Third Tuesday Events

Unless otherwise specified, all Third Tuesday Receptions with a talk are scheduled to start at 5:30 PM in Moore Hall at 3 Maynard St. in Hanover with free parking across the street. Go into Moore, then down the stairs (or elevator) for the reception and the talk in Room B03 across from Filene.

January 17, 2017

Dean of Thayer School of Engineering Joe Helble will update us on the newest plan to expand Thayer and discuss the plan to encourage more non engineering undergrads to attend classes to better understand some engineering technology.

February 21, 2017

John Stomberg, Director of the Hood Museum, will speak on the expansion and some of the new features at the Museum.

March 21, 2017

We are planning to invite Michael Hinsley of the Hanover Fire Dept. to speak on fire prevention issues.

Visit Dartmouth Underground!

Member Dennis Brown has scheduled two Steam Tunnel tours for Ground Hog Day, Thursday, February 2. The times are 2:00pm and 4:00pm, and each tour is restricted to 15 persons.

As in previous years, people should send their responses to dennis.t.brown@dartmouth.edu and he will monitor and create waiting lists if necessary.

We should note that the Steam Tunnels are not handicap accessible, and that people should convene 15 minutes before those times at the Physical Plant entrance behind New Hampshire Hall.
